Hugo Odella, the eight-year-old son of Mr. Odella, a San Francisco hotel man, who is here on a vacation with his uncle, Mr. Cogo, was badly bitten on the forehead by a vicious dog last Tuesday. The injured lad was taken to the office of Dr. Leix for surgical treatment. The gash was a long and deep one and it required eight stitches to close the gaping wound.

At latest accounts the youngster was doing as well as could be expected.

DIED SUDDENLY AT SANTA ROSA

Mother of Mrs. Charles Spindler of this Valley is Found Dead in Bed

Mrs. Magdalena Bonnet, mother of Mrs. Charles Spindler of El Verano, was found dead in bed at her home in Santa Rosa last Monday morning.

The deceased's sudden passing was a great shock to her relatives and friends and was entirely unexpected. When Mrs. Bonnet retired to her sleeping apartment Sunday night she was in perfect health, and it is thought heart failure was the cause of her death.

The remains were discovered by her son, Frank Bonnet, at about 7 o'clock Monday morning, when he went to his mother's room to call her. She had passed peacefully away some time during the night.

Mrs. Bonnet was a native of Germany and was 68 years old, and had been in California for five years, eighteen months of which time she had resided at El Verano. She is survived by one son, Frank A. Bonnet, and two daughters, Mrs. Herman Reischman of Petaluma and Mrs. Charles Spindler of El Verano.

Youth Charged With Serious Offense

Lloyd Shaffer is held in jail in Santa Rosa awaiting his preliminary examination on a charge of intent to commit assault. The alleged offense was committed Saturday night on a woman on a ranch some distance from Santa Rosa, but the arrest was not made until Wednesday afternoon.

The name of the woman is being withheld for the present to save her all possible unpleasant notoriety pending the hearing. According to her story, Shaffer, who is about nineteen years of age, and recently returned from the Reform School, visited her on the ranch Saturday night and during the evening made an attack upon her. The woman says she made a desperate fight and bit Shaffer's hand severely in the struggle. She was badly scratched and bruised about the face, arms and body, by her assailant. She finally succeeded in getting free and ran from the house, screaming for assistance. A neighbor, who heard her cries, rushed to her home and in time to see Shaffer rush bareheaded from the house.

He found Shaffer's hat and when Shaffer was arrested on a complaint issued from the Justice's court, he was found to have an injured hand.

APPOINTMENT OF NEW COMMISSON

Last Legislature Provides for Three of the Faithful

George C. Pardee, R. W. Bull and Francis Cutting Named Conservation Commissioners

Governor Johnson on Monday last appointed the members of the new conservation commission, created by an Act of the last Legislature to make places for those patriots who took part in the last political campaign and helped kick the other fellows out of office to make places for themselves. In appointing the members of the new commission Governor Johnson was not unmindful of his political obligations and named the following:

Ex-Governor George C. Pardee of Alameda, Ralph W. Bull, Humboldt, and Francis Cutting, Riverside.

The Commission will serve without pay, but has $100,000 at its disposal to investigate and gather data and information concerning the subjects of forestry, water, the use of water, water power, electricity, electrical and other power, mines and mining, mineral and other lands, dredging, reclamation and irrigation, and for revising, systematizing and reframing the laws of the State pertaining to these subjects. The report will be presented to the Legislature in 1913.

The Governor also appointed Prof. Charles D. Marx, Stanford University; C. S. Graham, Los Angeles and Harold Power, Placer, as members of the Conservation Board of Control, who each receive $10 dollars for every day's service rendered. An office force is provided and $50,000 to carry the Act into effect.

Expert Ben F. Ballard has not completed his financial report for presentation as yet.

A number of witnesses were before the grand jury on Tuesday, William R. Slusser and John Ward being among those examined at the forenoon session.

Evariste de Bernardi was summoned to act as interpreter during the day, and awaited at the outer door to be called in to assist the jurymen.

It is predicted that there will be some indictments returned by the grand jury at its present session. Just how many the officials will not even intimate.

The members of the grand jury are as follows: Charles C. Belden, foreman; Henry D. Noonan, secretary; John J. Rein, A. S. Gibbons, John B. Cooley, E. G. Furber, S. J. Hall, D. W. Ravenscroft, Eugene R. Bailey, James Sorensen, Charles B. Kobes, George D. Sanborn, J. W. Gladden, D. B. Peugh, W. F. Farrell, B. M. Spencer, Arthur D. Winkler, W. S. Dudley.

Woman's Club Notes

Last Friday was social day and only a brief time was devoted to necessary business.

After several humorous and witty quotations from Mark Twain, Miss M. Moore read a very interesting paper on the development of woman, both from the scientific point of view of the biologist and also from that of the student of sociology and modern world movements. Incidentally the argument was a strong one in favor of granting women the ballot.

The ladies present were greatly pleased by several charming songs given by Mrs. Kinsella and her sister Miss Robinson. Later, tea and small cakes were enjoyed.

Ladies, have your spring and summer skirt made by Parrent, the ladies and gents tailor.

BYRON'S ASSAILANT HELD TO ANSWER

Patrick, the Father of a Wronged Child, Expects Acquittal.

Singular to Relate Testimony Fails to Show Who Knifed the Girl's Betrayer

The preliminary examination of J. B. Patrick, charged with cutting Dr. A. E. Byron, formerly of this city, for seducing his twenty-two-year-old daughter was concluded in Judge Mortimer's court, Oakland, Thursday.

The accused was represented by Attorney Peter Crosby, and no attempt was made at a defense, but his questions indicated that he would make his case one of self-defense in the Superior Court.

At the conclusion of the testimony Patrick was held to answer before the Superior Court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. His bail was fixed at $1,000.

Detective Richard Sorely testified as follows:

"Patrick came to the detective department early in the evening of March 28, the date of the alleged stabbing. He said that he wanted a plain clothes man to accompany him to a room where Dr. Byron and his daughter were secreted. I asked him the age of his daughter. He said she was 22 years of age, and I told him that in that case I could do nothing for him. He said he wanted to gather evidence against Byron; that he desired to catch them in a compromising situation, publish his evidence and drive Byron out of town. He also said that his daughter was under the influence of this man; that he did not know how he did it—by drugs or hypnosis, and that when Mrs. Patrick had pleaded with Byron to free the girl from the strange influence, he had told her over the telephone that he could subjugate any woman in this town and make her do his bidding."

"Patrick told me that his daughter was living as the wife of Byron; that she did not at first know that he was a married man, and that she was even being introduced as his wife. At this juncture his wife entered the room and said: 'Come on; let's hurry and go to that room.' Patrick told her to keep cool, and they left the place at 15 minutes to 9 o'clock. Patrick returned at 20 minutes after 9 o'clock. He had a knife dripping with blood in his hand. He said: 'Well, I have stabbed that man.'"

"What?" I responded.

"Yes, I cut him; is there any place where I can wash my hands?"

"I allowed him to wash his hands and then took him down to the police station and had him locked up."

Dr. A. E. Byron, pale and plainly showing the effects of the knife thrust that so nearly caused his death and that of a long confinement in Providence Hospital, was the first to take the stand. He was called by Attorney Peter Crosby, attorney for Patrick. The strangest part of the physician's testimony was that he was absolutely unable to testify as to who plunged the knife into his breast. The following testimony was brought out by Crosby:

"How long have you known Ethel Patrick?"

"Two years."

"Have you been practicing medicine in Oakland during that time?"

"I have."

"Did you ever visit Ethel Patrick in any other than a professional capacity?"

"I did."

"Where were you on the evening of March 28, the night of the assault?"

"In the Alhambra apartments."

"Was Miss Patrick with you?"

"Yes."

"Were you clothed?"

"I refuse to answer that question on the grounds that it would bring forth an answer which would be damaging my reputation."

Crosby objected and submitted the matter to the court, Judge Smith ordering the pale and nervous physician to answer the question. After some hesitation Dr. Byron admitted that he was practically innocent of clothes, and that when the loud knock came at the door of the apartment which he said the girl had engaged he had withdrawn to a small closet.

"Do you know of your own knowledge who cut you, Dr. Byron?" Crosby asked.

"No I do not."

"And you never did know it, did you?"

"No; I have no idea."

Byron was excused and slowly walked out of the room on the arm of a friend. When Ethel Patrick was called she declared that she knew nothing of the assault. She said:

"I did not see the struggle. Some one knocked and several people came into the room. But I do not know what was done; I do not remember; I was dazed." The girl was heavily veiled, and answered the few questions put to her in a small scared voice.

Frank G. Merifield, a friend of the Patrick family, who accompanied Patrick and his wife to the apartment on the night of the assault, testified to seeing the struggle between Patrick and the physician but said that he did not see the blow fall.

Dr. O. D. Hamlin, who attended the wounded physician, gave expert testimony as to the nature of the wound, and said that it might have been made by Patrick's knife, which had been introduced in evidence, and was shown Hamlin. The trial was then postponed until the following day.

The Hay Market

Somers & Co. of San Francisco report the condition of the hay market for the week ending April 25th as follows:

"There has been somewhat of a decrease in hay arrivals during the past week, a total of 2612 tons being marketed in comparison with 3058 the week preceding. This small decrease has been hardly noticeable, for the local demand has been so quiet that it has been only with difficulty that the hay has been removed from the tracks. Concessions are being made right along in price and the fact that the shippers are bringing in more hay than the city can absorb is seriously disturbing conditions and putting the general hay situation of the State in somewhat of a false light. In the country holders of hay are firm in their ideas, in many districts farmers refusing to sell at figures which they were a few weeks ago anxious to accept. The consumption of hay has been very heavy of late especially in the interior of the State and this together with the fact that the new crop in many districts does not look any too good, has caused the advance in the country. When hay is once shipped to San Francisco, however, it must be sold, it being almost impossible to hold hay so as to take advantage of any prospective advance. For this reason hay is weak in town and strong in the country districts."

We do not think that the present conditions can continue until new crop is available and there is some question in the minds of those interested as to whether the local prices will have to advance to meet the ideas of holders in the country or the congested condition of the trade here will prevent dealers from plying the prices which are now asked in the country."

The Salt of a Pedagogue.

SETTING a money valuation on some of our work in this world is a hard matter. The work that is done by the brain, not actually yielding material results, is apt to be underrated. There seems to be some general opinion that an employee must put in so much time to "earn his salt." The acceptance of this time-honored theory causes a big leakage in the actual production of the world. Not only the amount but also the quality of the work is impaired. The action of the State Superintendent of Schools to popularize himself by making teachers put in their time and earn their salaries is an example of public opinion as reflected by a public official.

The public is inconsistent. There has been a constant hue and cry for a better grade of men in the teaching ranks. Fine individuals who enter the profession of teaching are soon won away by the better inducements in other lines of work. Pedagogy, besides yielding a comparative small revenue to its followers, is far from an enviable position and the latest effort to keep the teacher on the job and make him earn his money by the physical application and sweat of the brow method will turn many a likely teacher into other fields of labor.

The public should be schooled in the realization that a sympathetic understanding between teacher and school patrons is essential. This understanding, if properly gauged, would bring the matter into the proper focus where the public would see that the handling of the diversified elements which we pour into the public school is no small matter of simple discipline. The day of the strap is about past. The modern teacher whips his material into shape in a different way. He brings into play all his intuition, personality and cleverness in handling the different individuals which go to make up his school. He must learn how to reach as well as to teach each one. He must make over standards of conduct inherited and acquired in unfavorable homes. The wear and tear on his moral force, the dissemination of his influences, the transmitting of his ideals to the impressionable youth is not a matter of hours. It is a matter of inspiration, which is another word for intensity.

The man or woman who is willing to put in the time thought necessary by the public to get its money's worth out of a teacher is not the kind of man or woman who can do our children any good.

Women Wage Earners and the Law.

SOME of our worthy solons who fought so chivalrously at Sacramento for shorter hours for our women wage-earners probably feel like the unlucky third party who gets into a family scrap—the onlookers applaud, but the principals to the controversy don't thank him a little bit for "butting in." The new law is to be tested at the solicitation of many women employees, among them the cotton mill workers of Oakland. With the coming on of the fruit season the change will seriously affect the old working basis and the test cases now in the courts will be vigorously pressed.

There is no question but that there have been extreme violations on the part of employers. It is the old story of carrying an abuse too far. Some concerns have treated their women employees with such apparent and flagrant disregard that it aroused every observer except, perhaps, the poor victim, who has been imposed on too long to be a competent and far-seeing critic. Six and seven dollars a week is paid in many of San Francisco's stores at holiday time and no extra pay for the night work. One of the largest candy stores in that city has been working its girls on some shifts which begin at eight in the morning and, with the exception of an hour and a half for meals, ends at mid-night. The defense is that shorter shifts through the week equalize the work into an average of nine hour days, and for this the girls are paid a little over a dollar a day.

The employer will have to put on more help and it may curtail his profit, but the bodies and souls of our wives and mothers-to-be means something to America.

Organized Labor and the Dynamiters.

If organized labor is enmeshed in the dastardly work of dynamiting decent men should break away from it. If this is what organization means America wants none of it, let alone the honest, hard-working masses who are the sinew of the nation and who have been giving Unionism its only right to recognition. Our workingman is all right as an average, but he allows himself to be dominated by unscrupulous leaders who place him in just such an awful light as has this Times affair. No unlawful combination should be tolerated whether its constituents be either the moneyed or the working classes.

A WILY ORIENTAL

Guile of a Tricky Native Snake Charmer In India.

GATHERED IN THE SERPENTS.

It was No Trouble to Him to Lure the Reptiles Into His Basket, and the Supply Was In No Danger of Giving Out and Losing Him a Job.

Among the numerous objectionable and dangerous creatures peculiar to the orient none is more repulsive than the snake. One shudders involuntarily as one thinks of its wriggling body and vicious characteristics. During my residence in India I never felt safe from its presence. I had my closets, bed and even my bathhouse searched every day lest one should be found coiled up in some corner, writes Eliza K. Van Bergen in the Christian Intelligencer.

I was always on the watch for the creatures and ever in mortal terror of treading on one. It never occurred to me to sleep without a light, and a stick was always near at hand lest I might find one unawares and be unprepared to meet it. I even looked upon my thin mosquito curtain as a slight protection, for it would at least break its fall should a snake tumble down suddenly from the ceiling.

The creatures have a decided preference for cool, damp places and often choose the bathroom and sometimes the tub for their habitation, much to the discomfort of its rightful habitude. It is not unadvised bliss to live in a place infested with serpents. With such formidable enemies, one never forgets to be cautious, nor to guard against their presence and sudden attack. It makes one alert to be in the midst of danger and adds spice to life.

Well, as I started out to say, my garden was infested with snakes, and I was persuaded to have a native charmer summoned to lure them away. His hideous occupation, weird incantations and strange pets surrounded the snake charmer with a peculiar fascination. His magnetism and skill are considered phenomenal in the east.

This specimen was tall and lank and had deep, cavernous eyes and an abstracted air. Some of the creatures were coiled around his wrist, which made him still more repellant. He handled them as if they were perfectly harmless. About the neck he wore a chain with a flute attached. Two other jugglers accompanied him, similarly attired, but minus the snakes. One carried a closed basket on his arm.

He stopped at a respectful distance to make his "salutation" which is the customary salute of the country. Then he approached the aloe hedge which inclosed my grounds, squatted himself in a crouch on the grass and began to produce weird, plaintive sounds on the flute, to which music the reptiles entwined themselves around him and seemed to sway their bodies to and fro.

After some time a snake appeared, gliding slowly and stealthily out from the hedge toward the spot where it heard the enchanting music. The charmer allowed it to come quite close and to wind itself around his arm. Another followed and yet another, while the other two men stood by holding a basket ready to receive them as soon as they unwound themselves. At least a half dozen appeared and were disposed of in this manner. After being captured they appeared as if in a stupor.

Horried with his performance, I begged him to stop and let him leave the place. He assented and, picking up the basket, departed with the snakes without ever ceasing to play his uncanny tune. His companions gathered up the rest of his belongings and followed him. I paid a certain sum for each snake thus dispatched.

He came repeatedly thereafter and went through the same performance, conjuring up more reptiles and disposing of them in the same way until I began to suspect some trickery. He refused to allow the snakes to be killed, insisting that they were sacred and must not be put to death. It looked as if he replaced the snakes in the hedge after removing them, and thus he multiplied their number and increased his gains.

I was finally forced to have him removed by the police and threatened with punishment in order to keep him away. Nothing would persuade me to permit one of the fellows to enter my premises again.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

OH, THOSE MEN! THOSE HORRID MEN!

Henry Burris Wants His Marriage Annulled as it is Not to His Liking

Henry C. Burris of Hanford, says a dispatch from San Francisco of 21st inst., filed suit here today for the annulment of his marriage on March 18th to Sarah Jane Duffy. It is alleged in the complaint that the marriage took place while he was held in duress and under threats of being killed by James Duffy, a brother, and the Misses Gertrude and Mary Duffy, sisters of the woman to whom he was married.

According to the story of the attorneys, it is claimed that the pair had been out on a three-days' joy trip, and when they returned to the Duffy home the taxi-cab driver was held up at the point of a revolver and forced to leave without his pay. Burris, it is claimed, was then taken into the house, where he was kept prisoner until the next day, when the arrangements for the marriage were made and the ceremony performed. As soon as possible Burris made his escape and has kept away from San Francisco ever since. The Duffys have a brother, George, who is on the police force here. The woman is said to be well known on the white way.

The plaintiff, Henry Burris, is a well known young bachelor of 38 years of age. He was born and raised in this city, and his recent marriage was a great surprise to his many friends here, as he was supposed to be immune to the charms of the fair sex.

Must Defend Themselves Against Serious Charges

Several criminal cases came up before Judge Seawell last Monday. And Benino, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, had his trial set for May 21. He was arraigned on Monday and entered a plea of not guilty.

E. Salo, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, will be tried on June 1 by consent. Permission was granted to file a bill of exceptions in the case.

Dr. L. C. Chisholm pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder, when before Judge Emmet Seawell on Monday morning. He was arraigned and his plea followed the arraignment. His trial was set for June 11, which will occur during the court vacation.

Fred Schwarze will be examined as to his sanity before he is brought to trial for the murder of his sister, Miss Louise Schwarze. His examination as to his mental status will be held in Judge Emmet Seawell's court room on July 24. This is the earliest date on which his examination could be had.

Committed to the Napa State Hospital

Sheriff Jack Smith of Santa Rosa passed through here by automobile Tuesday en route to Napa. With him was Mrs. S. S. McCord of Occidental, who was committed to the state hospital at Napa on Monday. The unfortunate woman had already been an inmate of that institution and been discharged as cured. A telegram reached her a few days ago that her father was dying and the shock again upset her reason. Her examination took place before Judge Emmet Seawell, and Dr. J. W. Jesse and Dr. S. S. Bogle were summoned to attend the court as medical advisors.

BASEBALL GAME TO MORROW

Tomorrow afternoon the Sonoma baseball team will play their second game of the season with that fast bunch of pie-eaters from the city of San Francisco. The team call themselves the "Oakwoods" and may be compelled to go "back to the woods" after the game tomorrow.

The Sonoma boys won their game last week, but the writer cannot see where credit is due either team, the game being sort of a continuous performance, from 3 to 6. Last week's game should not be taken seriously as it was not more than a little recreation for the ball players. The score was 12 to 10.

The game tomorrow will have to be played with more ginger if we expect to be the victors.

The battery for Sonoma will be Jansen and Poppe. Game to commence at 2:30 sharp.

A grandstand has been erected and there will be seats for everyone. Admission 25c; ladies 15c; children 10c.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
